ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY TEAM PRESENTS REPORT TO BROOKS

Monroe County Executive Maggie Brooks today received the report and recommendations of the Economic Development Strategy Team she appointed in December. Tom Mooney and Theresa Mazzullo, Co-Chairs of the team, presented Brooks with the team's report at a news conference this morning.

"When I appointed the Economic Development Strategy Team, I asked Tom, Theresa and the members to provide me with solid recommendations to guide Monroe County's economic progress and think of ways we could energize our community, attract new business investments, and create more jobs," said Brooks. "Today, I am pleased to receive their report and look forward to carefully reviewing the team's recommendations."

"Specifically, I called on the team to evaluate the multitude of economic development efforts already underway in the community, and explore the creation of a system of one-stop shopping for businesses looking to locate, expand and create jobs locally," Brooks added.

Tom Mooney is CEO of the Rochester Business Alliance. Theresa Mazzullo is a Principal in EPIC Advisors, Inc., a national firm specializing in 401k administration. Brooks thanked Mooney and Mazzullo, and all the team members, for their hard work and diligence in this important community effort.

"I look forward to continuing to work with the members of the Economic Development Strategy Team to make our community stronger – by strengthening our economy, creating more jobs for Monroe County residents, and building a brighter future for everyone," Brooks concluded.
